

Youth For Freedom .org

Yes, you heard it right! The directors of YFA for the last eight years have finally listened to all of our friends outside of America who have joined us for years. We are now inviting the world to join us in our cause for freedom! Freedom and liberty, but it doesn't stop there, freedom from our fears, freedom from our comfort zones, freedom from what everybody else thinks of us, freedom from physical pain, freedom in our finances, freedom to do the good we want, when we want, and with whom we want, freedom to worship as we choose, freedom to laugh, freedom to dance..... I think you are getting the picture.

We are so excited about the name change as well as all the fun changes we have made for this coming year. Our new website is youthforfreedom.org ! This is actually where you will be able to register and find out more about 2010 conferences.

Some of the exciting changes that we know you parents are going to love include: We are going to be able to offer levels 1,2,3, and 4 at the same time because of the facility we found!!! Level 1 is going to stay overnight with us! (Parents get your 12 and 13 year olds ready to spend one night away from you ) We are offering discounts and promotions, so look for those. Because we are doing all 4 levels at the same time the conferences will fill up quick. Once they are full, we will look into opening more sessions, but nothing is guaranteed and space is limited, so get in now!

One of the awesome promotions we are offering was inspired by one of our youth last year, Jonathan, for anyone who refers 6 new kids into Youth For Freedom you will receive 1 free pass. This is unlimited! This way you can earn your way into our conferences AND share this life changing experience with all your friends! The youth said over and over "I wish I had brought my neighbor... I wish I had my sister here... I wish I had realized how amazing this was going to be... I would have brought 10 friends...". Now is your chance to bring all those you love and care about. See you soon.

-Kami and Mark Mitchell

-New Promotions-

1. Until October 14, 2009: $50 off registration. (promo code: prereg)
2. Starting October 15, 2009: Families with 3 or more attendees receive $25 discount for each child.
3. Refer 6 new attendees and receive 1 free admission.

